

February 23, 2023

Feijiang Han
Shenghua Apartment, Central South University
Guanlan International Community, Jiaozuo City, Henan Pr
Jiaozuo, CN-HA
China, People's Republic

Dear Feijiang Han:

I am writing concerning the February 14, 2023 TOEFL iBT® Home Edition test. As explained in the Information and Registration Bulletin for TOEFL iBT® test, you were advised that Educational Testing Service (ETS) is obligated to report test scores that accurately reflect the performance of test-takers. Accordingly, ETS routinely reviews testing irregularities and test results believed to be earned under unusual or nonstandard circumstances. You agreed to these policies and procedures when you registered for the test and when you completed the Confidentiality Statement on the day of the test.

I am writing to advise that the test scores issued in your name for February 14, 2023 have been canceled. In the quality control process, the ETS Speaking staff noticed that your response(s) to one or more of the Speaking tasks did not reflect a response to the assigned task. This was noticeable since the responses for which you receive a score should be your own original and independent work. Further reviews determined that a portion of your Speaking response(s) contains ideas, language and/or examples found in other test taker responses or from published sources.

You may contact me directly at OTIRPABot@ets.org or call me at 1-609-406-5430 (press option 6) should you have any questions in this regard.

Sincerely,
Melody D.
Melody D.
Test Security Analyst

Ref No. 2023- 8276357